SELECTING THE PROPER SIZE PORTRAIT

Once you have selected your favorite image to display in your home, the second most important decision you'll make will be the appropriate portrait size for your wall. There are three things to main consider:

1. ROOM SIZE: Consider where the portrait might hang. Is the ceiling height 8 feet or 15 feet? How large is the wall and the room? Can you see it from 20 feet away? These factors play a large role in determining the best size.
2. FACE SIZE: Seeing everyone's expression is very important. For an average size room, with a viewing distance of 8-10 feet, a face height of at least 4" to 6" is recommended. Any smaller and expressions are lost, and you won't get the viewing pleasure you deserve.
3. VIEWING DISTANCE will also determine portrait size. Again, we recommend face sizes in the portraits to be at least 6" based on an average viewing distance of eight to ten feet.

HOW TO DETERMINE SIZING

In the example, we show your statement piece over a sofa for illustrative purposes. You may also consider a large family portrait over a mantle, a buffet, a bed, or a hall console. The same concept for determining size will apply.

- Measure your sofa to determine its total length. Most three seater sofas are at least 80" wide.
- A horizontal (or square) focal piece of art portrait should be at least 50-75% as wide as the sofa it hangs above. For example, if your sofa is 80" wide (6.5 feet), choose a portrait that is at least 40" wide.
- Many people hang art too high. Be sure to center your portrait of the wall space above the sofa, with the bottom edge of the frame approximately 6 to 9" above the back.
- If you can't decide on just one statement portrait, consider a WALL COLLAGE (=a grouping of smaller portraits) and space the pieces 2-3" apart from each other. Just make sure the overall space you cover is at least 70% of the width of the wall area. Inquire about our wall art collages for inspiration for your custom wall galleries!

ALL CROPS ARE NOT CREATED EQUAL!

Photographic prints come in many standard sizes. Although all images are created by the camera at a 2:3 ratio (just like a 4x6 print), many print sizes do not have a 2:3 ratio. Depending on the size of your final print, part of the image may be cropped.

WHAT IS THE RIGHT SIZE?

There is no right or wrong answer. It is most important to be guided by the wall space that your prints will occupy, then select a size and ratio that meets your requirements.
